Prestigious Award for TPA Poland

Advisory company TPA Poland has been awarded the “Tax and Financial Provider” title. The award was presented during the 8th edition of EuropaProperty CEE Investment Awards gala ceremony, which is considered to be one of the most important and valued events in the Central and Eastern Europe real estate market.

I am very happy and proud that the company I work for has been awarded such an important award for the second time at this very stage. I am also proud to be receiving this award on behalf of TPA Poland. As a person who joined the company’s team of tax and financial experts this year, I can already say that this had been a very good decision. It feels great to be part of the winning team, said Monika Stachurska-Waga, tax advisor, supervisor in Tax Advisory Department at TPA Poland, who was collecting the award. On behalf of the whole team I would like to thank the jury members, who voted for TPA and all those who made this success possible, she added.

For years, TPA Poland has been involved not only in the commercial real estate sector, but also in the construction and residential sector, including housing projects for rental. The company has got a team that skillfully combines expert knowledge, industry expertise and extensive experience. This allows TPA Poland to provide services at every stage of the project and meet expectations of the most demanding clients.

It is with great satisfaction that we receive the award that emphasizes the involvement of our experts in numerous transaction in the Polish commercial and residential real estate. The dynamic development of the sector makes Poland stand out against the backdrop of Europe – we are very happy to be a significant part of this trend, commented Wojciech Sztuba, Managing Partner at TPA Poland. At TPA we react in advance to all business environment changes. We prepare our clients for new obligations and risks. We provide quick information and well-thought-out solutions. I believe that this is what our clients value and exactly what was appreciated by the jury, he concluded.

This is a great distinction. Our experts have unique experience. That is why they are able to help in entering a market as well as in prestigious real estate acquisition, sale, and restructuring transactions. In our everyday work we don’t forget about promoting best practices in the real estate market. This year we have prepared the “What’s new in taxation of Polish Real Estate Market?” report, which describes the most important tax changes following the amendments announced in August 2018, focusing on the consequences for the industry. We are very happy to see that our professional approach has been recognized and appreciated. We would like to thank our clients very much, added Małgorzata Dankowska, tax advisor, Partner responsible for the real estate team and the Warsaw tax division of TPA Poland.

The “Tax and Financial Provider” title is awarded by an independent jury, consisting of key persons in the industry, representing leading investors and developers, among others. The jury selected and awarded persons, institutions and projects that were characterized by the highest value, unique quality or considerable scale last year. The award categories included, among others, the Investor of the Year, Investment Asset Management Firm, Investment Deals, Office Project, or Law Firm.
